

The Richness of God (based on Romans 11)

God's wisdom goes deeper than we can believe,
to levels we can't comprehend;
for he's on a wavelength that we can't receive;
his knowledge is broader than minds can conceive -
it knows neither measure nor end.

For who would dare offer advice to the Lord?
Or question the Judge to his face?
And who on this planet could ever afford to render the Sovereign sufficient reward
as payment for limitless grace?

Or who can interpret his infinite ways,
succeed in discerning his mind?
The richness of God leaves us wholly amazed:
he's absolute monarch of all he surveys,
and Lord of this world he designed.

To God be the glory! Our voices we'll raise to heaven, again and again!
As living perfection in all of his ways,
the Lord of eternity merits our praise
both here and hereafter, Amen!

Romans 11: 33-36:

Oh the depth of the riches of the wisdom and knowledge of God!
How unsearchable his judgements, and his paths beyond tracing out!
Who has known the mind of the Lord? Or who has been his counsellor?
Who has ever given to God, that God should repay him?
For from him and through him and to him are all things.
To him be the glory for ever! Amen.
